

110
YEARS

Waihi 2022 Commemoration and celebration

On 12 November 1921 was 'Black Tuesday', when Waihi miner Fred Evans was killed while on strike with 1,500 of his workmates. The Waihi Miners' Strike was a pivotal point in Aotearoa New Zealand's industrial relations history and every year we remember Fred and the significant impact of the strike.

110 years later, we have wins to celebrate. The introduction of Fair Pay Agreements will hopefully mean a return to some real worker power that has been lost in the decades since the Employment Contracts Act gutted unionism.

Join us on 12 November 2022 to look back at our history and look forward to our future. We'll have interesting speeches about the history and our current opportunities, as well as great food and entertainment. This is an event for the whole Labour Movement whānau!

Saturday, 12 November 2022

12:00pm to 4:00pm

Waihi Memorial Hall, Waihi

Please send your RSVP to campaigns@etu.nz before Saturday 29 October and feel free to invite others from the Labour Movement who might be interested.
